

Planning your upcoming surgery

In this extraordinary time, taking care of your health and emotional wellness is a top priority. To help your peace of mind as you plan for your upcoming surgery, here are some questions you may want to ask your care team.

Scheduling your procedure

- 1. Can I schedule surgery at this time?
- 2. Should I postpone my surgery until after COVID-19 infection rates have declined?
- 3. What possible health risks could I encounter if I delay my surgery?
- 4. How long am I likely to stay in the hospital after surgery? Does COVID-19 change that?
- 5. Are you offering virtual or telemedicine, for pre or post-surgery appointments?

Safety protocols

- 1. What safety precautions is the hospital taking to prevent the spread of COVID-19?
- 2. Will I be tested for COVID-19 before my procedure? If so, what happens if my test results come back positive for COVID-19?
- 3. If the hospital is treating COVID-19 patients, how will I be kept safe from exposure to the virus?
- 4. Will I need to wear a mask at all times while I'm in the hospital?

Caregiver accessibility

- 1. Can I bring a family member or friend with me to my surgery?
- 2. How will the surgeon let my family and/or friends know when my surgery is complete and how it went?
- 3. Can I have visitors during my hospital stay? If so, who can visit me?

Post-surgery care

- 1. How will I receive follow-up care after I return home?
- 2. What should I do if I experience pain or complications after I return home?
- 3. How can I reach my doctor at any time if I need to speak to her/him?
